Pope blasts Spanish ;

Pope Pius VII blasted the Spanish leaders today called the incursion in the Papal states a bludgeon onto Gods eye. This act of Satan worship will be avenged by the good Christian men around Europe who should rally to the Papal states defence. The Pope is quoted as saying " The smelly Spanish are defecating all over Rome and need to be removed immediately".

The Papal state defenders taken by surprise either surrendered or fled south to Naples, their fate is still not known at this time. Spanish emperor Ronaldeeno reacted to the news saying " we did it for their own good and all troops to told to bath before the invasion"

Beer up in Baveria

The price of beer has increased mainly due to an Austrian slowed down sales of hops at the border.

Grand price MAC has been quoted saying "we'll punch the Grand Duke in the nuts if he interferes with beer production on the Rhine.

Invasion repulsed:

A massive Austrian invasion of Bavaria was repulsed by local farmers and store keepers. Taunting the retreating Austrians one farmer was quoted as saying "Go back to Austria and get some food if you're that Hungarian'. Another threw beer bottle caps at them which read "please invade again". Word is the Grand Duke is not amused

Tourists flock to Rome

The Spanish invasion of Rome has become a major tourist attraction as the small but boisterous group of Infantry are dressing up as centurions and reenacting Hannibal's invasion. Locals who are not amused are being asked to stand on each others shoulders and act like elephants.

Business news

Local business has been told that the price of bread "baguettes" in particular and tea have been rising in Paris and Naples. The Bavarian coop will assist anyone in taking advantage of these opportunities.

Wuttemberg Post Oct 19, 1803

Vienna sausages:

Austrian Forces once again retreated from Bavarian this time due to shortages of rations mainly Vienna sausages. Local farmers offered the men Bavarian sausages, Oktoberfest sausages but none were sufficient and the Austrians went home. Meanwhile Bavarian forces prepare for an attack one captain said if they ever get enough sausages their bound too attack, I think.

Popes pray answered:

An international coalition entered Rome this week ending Spanish tyranny and freeing the Pope. The locals were heard saying "it was just like Atilla the Hun all over again but he took a bath". The international forces were made up of Russians, Brits, Papal and Naples forces, colourful lot indeed.

Czar commits help:

Czar Christopher has finally agreed to help Austria and help is on the way. According to Russian new papers The Grand Dukes pleads have been answers and help is coming when no one knows.

Business news:

Food prices continue to rise as military demand outstrips production.

Wuttemberg Post Nov 5 , 1803

Austria invades:

Forces of the Grand duke of Austria have invaded Bavaria again this time it looks for real. Troops from Tyrol in the south and Prague in the east are reported moving in towards the capital. All Bavarian forces and available allies have been mobilized to face the threat.

Rome again:

The papal states are been invaded again this time from the north. The short-lived Kingdom of Naples domination of the papal states is been challenged. For the third time in two months Rome has come under attack this time the Republic of Italy, Spanish and French forces are counter attacking. The Papal states are currently held for forces of the Third Coalition from Britain Russian and Kingdom of Naples. It's expected to get nasty there.

Prussian talks

The Prussian ambassador has urged peace talk be held in Berlin , He's quotes as saying "The peace loving people in Berlin and Prussian would gladly hold peace talk to stop the fighting . In return for this the Sudetenland could be given to Berlin as a gift for holding the talks.

Butchery in Bavaria

Austrian forces attacked and slaughtered the brave defenders of Bavaria. Stragglers continue to cross the borders with grim tales of the debauchery and unchivalrous behaviors of the Austrians. The Baden government announced the bad news that heavy casualties among our own Wuttemberg troops are expected and flags are ordered at half mast for a week of mourning.

The Lord protector Joho MacDonaldo has appealed our all to do their part as an imminent attack on Baden is expected. All home guard leave is cancelled and all soldiers are to return to barracks. One seven years veteran was quoted as saying " They battered Bavaria but they'll be bad off in Baden.

Meanwhile word on the counter attack in Rome is imminent, General Davis Janies of The Italian Republic is heading the effort and won't let us down.

Wuttemberg Post Nov 17, 1803

Victory in Rome

A smashing victory has recaptured Rome and the Papal States. Italian Republic, Spanish and French troops have driven the heathens back to Naples in fine style. General Janes attacked during high tea causing the British Forces to come in late while the Papal states and Naples forces taking most of the fighting were decimated. Colonel Burton commander of the British force said “attacking during tea is a sign of an uncivilized peasant, we’ll deal with him later on after crumpets are served “. Spanish commander Ronaldo cut his lip eating pizza with a sword was quoted as saying. “ First Rome then Naples then onward to eat some Graples.””

Meanwhile the defence of Baden is gearing up, everyone is needed to be at their best as Austrians will be along soon, we expect. It’ also rumoured that Napoleon himself was seen in the town Breisach enjoying a leisurely stroll and having a baguette. The French naval command has reported a glorious victory over the English at sea, however no details were provided.

God save Wuttemberg!!!

Venice falls

Catastrophe in Northern Italy as Venice has fallen to the Austrians! Austrian forces crossed the boarder and seized the capital of the Italian Republic spreading panic through out Italy. Forces of the Kingdom of Naples also took part in the savagery, Vienna sausages not pizza is now been served in tavern of Venice.

In Wurttemberg the people continue to prepare for the Austrian assault, "After the disaster in Bavaria and brutality in Venice, the province of Baden will not fall" said regent John Von MacDonaloff. Not until were safe will I rest, rest assured of that. After that rousing patriot speech, he headed west in a carriage.

In an international incident a lost Russian Brigade landed in Moldova by reported mistake and was quickly escorted by Turkish Authorities back to Russian soil. While other reports say Russian troops have been seen passing by Prussia on the way to Austrian soil in the east.

In Science news: a French gun smith says he can use the principle of the British rifle to build a Hugh gun that can shoot across the straight of Gibraltar. This to shoot 3rd coalition shipping from sailing around bother honest Spanish fisherman.

We at the Post wish everyone to be safe in the coming days, and as the Christmas season approaches. We know everyone will do their patriotic duty, from Madrid to Paris and Rome and beyond.

God save Wuttemberg!!!

Venice Retaken

Glorious hallelujah, with God and glory Venice has been retaken, Liberated. In a combined effort troops from France Spain and The Republic of Italy won a dramatic victory pushing the rogues away. Pizza is back on the menu sausages are back on the dog menu.

In a dramatic twist of events British forces have invaded southern Portugal devastating the country side. We call on the Portuguese people to rise up and throw off the blood pudding diet they are bound to be subject too. The Spanish high command is reported to be dealing with the unwelcome incursion. Reports continue of Russians crossing the Austrian boarder an unwelcome site indeed.

Sightings of Napoleon himself continue in Wuttemberg area; lets all hope this is true. While we remember our brothers in Baveria going through such a terrible time

With Christmas fast approaching the next issue will have tips on decorating your house during wartime, and fire prevention for your tree.

God save Wuttemberg!!!

Wuttemberg Post Dec 21, 1803

With Christmas almost here we would like to send out our sincerest wished to our troops in Italy Spain France and Baden. To the proud people Baveria may your liberation come soon and my Saint Nick drop a lump of coal down the Arch Dukes stocking. To the Vikings who have invaded Lisbon, go back to Scotland and molest some sheep.

Vodka shortages reported in Vienna while general food shortages are reported in Baveria and Baden as the military build up in both areas continue. While the Kingdom of Naples continues to stand defiant in the boot of Italy.

Please make sure your tree candles are blown out before retiring for the night, we don't want anyone getting hurt out there. And way too much gun powder out there these days to start a fire.

Merry Christmas post readers.

Special edition report

The battle to retake Barevia has begun!!
Reports say at dawn this morning French and Baverian forces crossed over the border from Baden. More information will follow as these brave men advance into history.

The Kingdom of Naples has announced full mobilization, all trained soldiers and reserves are ordered to report for duty immediately. This a desperate move by a desperate King Barnardo!

British Troops are in Lisbon, moving up from southern Portugal they join newly arrived Vikings from Sweden and the traitors from Portugal. We have great confidence that Emperor Ronaldo of Spain will deal with these vagabonds in a most evil way.

More to follow as developments unfold.

The Post wishes you a peaceful 1804 .

Wuttemberg Post Jan 13, 1804

The year of our lord 1804 has started with the liberation of Bavaria, after a hard-fought battle the Austrians menace has withdrawn. We at the Post thank the brave men of Bavaria and France for their bravery and determination of the cause of freedom. Prince John MacDonaldf rode through the capital singing and urging merriment to occur. “On to Vienna” he cried ‘On to Vienna.’

Reports from Southern Italy confirm the noose is tightening around the Kingdom of Naples. While no one knows when the final attack will occur word is the assault will happen anytime.

King Ronaldo of Spain has urged all Troops in Portugal to surrender Immediately to him. The decree said “You in Portugal have 1week to comply or be feed to the fishes.

God save Wuttemberg!!!
